Re: setool2lite v1.11 Trojan horse. Many antivirus programs identify qamaker.exe as malware (newer versions of jdflasher and SETool2 Lite v1.11 contain it). I think .exe files of Setool2 Lite v1.11 are fake, because Setool2 Lite v1.11 uses a new disk encryption algorithm during installation (based on the AES-256 algorithm) and does not require additional drivers to be installed, as it was in Setool2 Lite v1.0.0 (included with Setool2 Lite v1.01). Setool2 Lite v1.11 contains an additional algorithm for data encryption, but it does not require driver installation, but uses its own method. SETool2 Lite v1.11 contains additional features: fffad4f19a
