Common acute lymphoblastic leukemia is the most frequent leukemia in childhood and the most important cause of death in this age group. Since 2001, an association between ALL and placental site trophoblastic tumors is well known. In cALL, pro-apoptotic signals are initiated by some tumor-derived factors through induction of the apoptotic pathway. Thrombopoietin (TPO) acts through the TPO receptor (c-M Paris, France -- Astronauts on the International Space Station created a rather amazing painting of a ball in space and their wives or girlfriends brought some food for the crew. While the photo was taken on June 11, 2013, it's been posted online just a few days later. The art project was done by NASA astronauts Cady Coleman and Don Pettit as part of a contest for their families back on Earth. The astronauts created the painting in a special "designer" room on the orbiting lab. It was captured by a camera on the airlock of the station. The painting is called "Ball in
